I've spent decades developing breakthrough, best-in-class products across Korea and the United States.

Throughout my career, I've seen firsthand what happens when shortcuts are taken and quality is compromised. I have never accepted that standard at any company I've led — and I refuse to accept it at Amare.

Our innovation begins with the highest-quality ingredients, globally sourced for purity, quality, and efficacy.

Every formula is informed by the latest advances in holistic wellness science and inspired by the precision of Korean K-beauty innovation.

Each product we create is built to meet my uncompromising standards. When it comes to supporting the body at its core, only the very best is good enough. I can't wait for you to experience it.
